Dear Dr Ramnanan

RE: Linda PARSONS
DOB:

UR: 057761

Linda was seen in Surgical Outpatients today following an exploration of a lumpy area on the left side of her abdominal wall. This was initially thought to be a hernia but was subsequently found to be scar tissue.

She unfortunately underwent a difficult period of time with the wound developing an infection and requiring further suturing after it broke down.

On review today her wound is nicely healed apart from a small area which has very little ooze. I have thus discharged her back to your care.

Kind regards

James Boyd
